Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit....

“O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall show forth thy praise. For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou will not despise” (from Psalm 51).

Welcome to the POG on this Sunday morning.

Don't Give up on Your Dreams

The Lord leads each one of us in a unique way through our lives, and sometimes, the life that we are called to live may take us down a crooked path. Our journey through life may take us down roads that we never chose to travel, and yet, we find ourselves just trying to take careful steps to avoid the rocks and pits that would make us fall.

Who am I to question God's wisdom in these matters? I am a servant, called to do his will and to be a witness for his glory. I didn't bargain for some of the trials that I've had to face in my life; but at the same time, I know that I have a privilege to rejoice in the God of my salvation, who always causes me to triumph.

When I am sick; I have the Balm of Gilead. When I am thirsty; I have the fountain of living waters to draw from; when I am hungry; He is the living bread that sustains me. When I feel alone; He comes to me at the thought of his name; When I am weak, without the strength to carry on; he picks me up and carries me. When I am confronted with the attacks of the enemy; He stands in the gap for me and he upholds me with his free spirit.

In the weakness of flesh, I may look at the storms of life and forget that he made the storms. He is always in control of every situation and we must learn to trust him because he is faithful to us. What may seem like a rejection, could very well be the Lord's hand at work in our lives. If you lose a job; you may rejoice, because you will find a better one.

Don't give up, for the Best is already here! You will never be able to have less than God's best, because he is not an inferior God who gives us leftovers of his blessings. We will always have the best of everything because the Lord is our provider. He has made us the head and not the tail; and, we can stand before his throne boldly and proclaim that he is Lord. There is no second best with God. He eternally supplies our every need, and when we feel that there's not any hope left, God steps up to the plate and scores the final points. We win this game of life, if we will continue to trust God. Thank you for visiting with us; today, feel free to worship the Lord in Spirit and in Truth.

Don't give up on your dreams, because they are your only hope to change the world for the better. “Without a vision; the people perish.”

You're invited to enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise, and then immediately following service, all guests are invited to join us in the fellowship hall for light refreshments. gm

“But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him: and with his stripes we are healed.”

Willie's Korner

A pastor announced that the church's prison choir was going to sing.

At the appointed time the regular church choir came up. A confused parishioner asked the pastor about it. Pastor replied, “this is the prison choir... behind a few bars, and always looking for the key.” (submitted by Jim Wood).

School has started for some students, but in Sunday school we stay in the same classes until the first Sunday of the new quarter, which will be next weekend, Promotion Sunday, September 3.

At the POG, Sunday school classes are structured by a combination of age & grade level: School-aged children's classes are grouped by grade level.

- 1st and 2nd grade
- 3rd and 4th grade
- 5th and 6th grade
- 7th and 8th grade
- Youth

If a student didn't pass the 2nd grade, for example, he or she would still move up to 3rd and 4th grade along with the age group on Promotion Sunday.

Until next time, Willie
