Resting in the Secret Place

“O satisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice and be glad all our days. Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil” (Psalm 90:14-15).

“He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust” (Psalm 91:1-2).

“Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God” (Psalm 90:2).

We have been in a season of testing in the last few months, now the Lord is preparing us for a new work that he desires to perform in us. These things must come to pass before we are prepared to do the work that the Lord has called us to do. Can he trust us to be responsible and faithful to the calling that he's placed on our lives? Will we reject God's hand at work in our lives when the master plan conflicts with our vision?

Never will we know the blessing of Almighty God in its fullness, if we don't understand that in order to know Christ, we must be willing to know him in the fellowship of his suffering. That's sometimes hard to handle, because we don't want to suffer. We want everything to run smoothly and get praise from all of our faithful friends and coworkers. We want to be accepted, and enjoy the blessings of God. The Lord beckons us to take up our cross and follow him. I can't take up your cross, and you can't take up my cross; but if we are to fulfill God's eternal purpose for our lives we must be willing to take up our own cross, just as he carried his to Calvary.

If we aren't careful, we'll go days without spending time in his presence. It used to be that we couldn't wait to get into his presence; now, too often, we push aside the Lord for work, the empty social gatherings, or our own entertainment. How long will we limit God? He can only prosper us as our soul prospers.

So, we wonder why we stay so stressed out with fear and anxiety as we go through the redundant routines of daily living. It is because we have forgotten that we need God! I can't do this on my own, but if I'm called to bear that cross, I will make it because I'm learning how to abide under the shadow.” I know that I need God to direct my steps. When I move through my day, I want to know that he has gone before me to make the way.

He promised to set before me an open door. By the way, you don't have to preach on the job for people to know that you're a Christian; they'll know that you're a Christian by the way you live your life. If the Lord has placed his anointing on you; they will know. gm Willie's Korner!

A FAMOUS OPERA (posted in Complete) Composer

Giacomo Puccini wrote a number of famous operas. In 1922 he was suddenly stricken by cancer while working on his last opera, Turbaned, which many now consider his best. Composer Puccini said to his students, "If I don't finish Turbaned, I want you to finish it for me." Shortly afterward he died. Puccini students studied the opera carefully and soon completed it. In 1926 the world premiere of Turbaned was performed in Milan with Puccini favorite student, Arturo Toscanini, directing. Everything went beautifully until the opera reached the point where Puccini had been forced to put down his pen. Tears ran down Toscanini face. He stopped the music, put down his baton, turned to the audience, and cried out, "Thus far the Master wrote, but he died." A vast silence filled the opera house. Then Toscanini picked up the baton again, smiled through his tears, and exclaimed, "But the disciples finished his work." When Turbaned ended, the audience broke into thunderous applause. No one at the premiere ever forgot that moment.

SCHOOL A little girl had just finished her first week of school. I'm just wasting my time," she said to her mother. "I can't read, I can't write and they won't let me talk!"

BIBLE A little boy opened the big family bible. He was fascinated as he fingered through the old pages. Suddenly, something fell out of the Bible. He picked up the object and looked at it. What he saw was an old leaf that had been pressed in between the pages. "Mama, look what I found," the boy called out. "What have you got there, dear?" With astonishment in the young boy's voice, he answered, "I think it's Adam's underwear!"

POLICE It was the end of the day when I parked my police van in front of the station. As I gathered my equipment, my K-9 partner, Jake, was barking, and I saw a little boy staring in at me "Is that a dog you got back there?" he asked. "It sure is," I replied. Puzzled, the boy looked at me and then towards the back of the van. Finally he said, "What'd he do?" (
