Forgiveness is the Key to Answered Prayer

I must ask the Lord if my prayer life has become more of a ritual than a spiritual breakthrough? Whatever he asks me to do to make my life pleasing and fruitful for him, I must do it. There is nothing that I want more than to serve the Lord with my whole heart. The Bible tells us in Proverbs 3:3-6 to “Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart: So shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man. Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.”

It is okay to feel angry or hurt, if we learn who we can call on to help walk us through the journey of forgiveness. When we have overcome it, we'll know that it's only by God's grace that we were able to overcome. As we learn to submit to the will of the Father, we'll experience greater joy and a victorious revival; however, if we refuse to forgive, we open the door for satan to cause division in the church body, and we'll not see our prayers answered.

We must not allow satan to keep us from experiencing true forgiveness. As you can see in Matthew—“For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you: But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses” (Matthew 6:9-15)—we can't be forgiven if we don't forgive others.

Forgiving others when you are the victim isn't always easy, as a matter of fact, forgiving others takes strength that only comes from God. If we're unwilling to allow the Holy Ghost to show us where we are wrong in our attitudes, to cleanse us from our faults; we are at risk of hindering not only our own prayers from being answered, but the Spirit of the Lord to draw souls to repentance. Thankfully, we have Jesus Christ who forgave us unconditionally. He never complained about how unfairly he was being treated: he had a mission and he fulfilled the will of the Father.

“For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light” (Ephesians 5:8). gm
