My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

Therefore, I take pleasure in the infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong:" (2 Corinthians 12: 9-12) .

Are You Expecting a Miracle?

The Lord doesn't expect you to do everything perfectly; he does require that you be found faithful and do everything as unto the Lord. He will bless your commitment to do his will. When you become discouraged—encourage yourself in the Lord—realize that his word, "I can do all things through Christ that strengthens me," was written for us. We are more than conquerors. "Greater is he that is in me than he that is in the world." When we learn to feed on the word of God as our daily bread, we'll begin to see our lives from a different viewpoint. He's the God of the everyday miracles that we take for granted; and he's the God of the miracles that are impossible with man.

We would be wise to not place limits on God's abilities to answer our petitions. Just because we think that our circumstances are too complicated for even God to solve, doesn't make it so. We need to pray that the Lord will help our unbelief. If Satan can plant a seed of doubt in our minds, then it will hinder what the Lord desires to do for his people. Nothing is impossible with God!

My niece was born without a hip bone, and had to wear casts for the first few months of her life. My sister is a woman of Faith, so when God told her what she needed to do for her daughter she obeyed. It seemed silly to others that a four month old baby would be wearing oversized white socks and number 0 walker shoes, but to Jerry, it didn't matter what others thought; she had heard from God. Every day she anointed her daughter's crooked feet with oil and prayed fervently for a miracle.

Then, it was time for her to go for a routine Duke visit to change her casts. While the doctors were out mixing up the Plaster of Paris, the Lord commanded her to not let them put the casts on. I can only imagine the courage that it took to face these educated doctors, and tell them that she was not going to let them put the casts on. It was a long walk down the corridor with the best of the medical field staring at her in disbelief as she made her way through this part of her journey. But God said it, and she believed it.

The doctors contacted her a few weeks later and wanted to do an xray so that they might change her mind about the casts. The results caused quite a frenzy as doctors came in to look at the xrays in disbelief, because on the xray was a perfectly formed hip bone. This miracle is documented. My God is a God of miracles, and he does miracles so great.

He gives us health; he gives us life; he causes the rains to fall; he lifts us up from our limited view, so that we can see above our problems. We can see that what we thought was a deep dark hole, was actually the middle of a lily of the valley. Through our worship, he changes our situation. If we aren't looking for it we could miss the most awesome provision and be too preoccupied with the troubles to see that his hand is at work in everything that we do. He hasn't left us lost and without hope. He's turned heaven and earth upside down to make sure that we have everything that we need to live for him. When we learn to trust in God and expect the impossible to happen, he rewards us with blessings: the miraculous is not out of our reach, if we'll lift our hands and worship the one true living God. "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise." -gm

Something to Ponder...

Mistaken Identity

A man was being tailgated by a stressed out woman on a busy boulevard, when suddenly, the light turned yellow, just in front of him. He did the right thing and stopped, even though he could have beaten the red light by accelerating through the intersection. The tailgating woman hit the roof, and the horn, screaming in frustration as she missed her chance to get through the intersection. As she was still in mid-rant, she heard a tap on her window and looked up into the face of a very serious police officer. The officer ordered her to exit her car with her hands up. He took her to the police station where she was searched, finger printed, photographed, and placed in a holding cell.

After several hours, a policeman approached the cell and opened the door. She was escorted back to the booking desk where the arresting officer was waiting with her personal effects. He said, I'm very sorry for this mistake. You see, I pulled up behind your car while you were blowing your horn, flipping off the guy in front of you, and cussing a blue streak at him. I noticed the 'Choose Life' license plate, the 'What Would Jesus Do?' bumper sticker, the 'Follow Me to Sunday-School' bumper sticker, and the chrome-plated Christian fish emblem on the trunk.

Naturally, I assumed you had stolen the car.
