The Art of Receiving His Promises

Today, I just want to say thank you for all the times that you brought me through a storm. When all seemed lost, as I struggled to find the way, you directed my path and gave me hope for a better future. I know that there have been times that I've disappointed you, Lord, but I thank you for helping me to overcome. When my mother sacrificed part of her meal so that there would be enough to go around our large family table, I didn't realize how much of an impact that would make on me, but, in this week before Thanksgiving, I remember ...

“For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord; thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an unexpected end. Then shall ye call upon me; and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. And ye shall seek me early, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. And I will be found of you, saith the Lord: and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the Lord; and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive” (Jeremiah 29:11-14).

I remember when someone took the time to tell me about Jesus Christ, and how much that he loved me. I am humbled that the God of the Universe would give his life for me. How do I receive his precious gift of eternal life? Lord, help me to receive your gift with thanksgiving and with praise, not wavering in my faith when the flesh doubts that you would take the time to love me, a sinner. I am nothing without you, Jesus, and I long to let you live through me as I breath my praises through you.

Am I pleasing to you, Lord? I desire to be all that you would have me to be, and yet there are times when I fail miserably to live up to the standards that you have set, in spite of it all, you love me. How marvelous that you'd love me. My heart is overwhelmed within me, thank you, Jesus. You are the great I Am who was and is, and is to come.

When you send people into my life to encourage me, help me to humbly receive it without turning aside in pride. I lift my life up to you, for you are a holy God who will never fail to be in charge of my life. On this day of worship and thanksgiving, help me to surrender my will to your perfect will. Be perfected in me and with a heart of thanksgiving, let me give a sacrifice of praise to you. All I have to give is myself, so help me to give of myself wholeheartedly. Let your anointing fill this place. My desire is to worship the Lord in Spirit and Truth. Thank you for joining us this morning at the Pentecostals of Greenville. gm

A Thanksgiving Prayer

“O God, when I have food, help me to remember the hungry;
 When I have work, help me to remember the jobless;
 When I have a home, help me to remember those who have no home at all;
 When I am without pain, help me to remember those who suffer,
 And remembering, help me to destroy my complacency;
 bestir my compassion, and be concerned enough to help;
 by word and deed, those who cry out for what we take for granted. Amen.”

(Samuel F. Pugh, from a website)

Until next time, Willie
