Let Me Be a Light

Let my light so shine as the sun
In a dark World without hope
Lord, I want to be a vessel—used by you.
Let my lips be filled with praise
Let my hands be toward heaven raised
In total adoration and worship.
Let me be a vessel—used by you
In a cold and indifferent world of people
Lost without you. Help me show them the Name,
The only name whereby we must be saved.
Then, Lord, break me and let me be molded
By your masterful touch.
I want to be a vessel of honor, You paid the price
Let my light so shine that you might be glorified. gm

Being a light should be the heartbeat of the church body. Every person has a place in the body of Christ, and there are things that you can do that I'll never be able to do. I think about how blessed that I truly am to be alive and well in 2019, but if God had not intervened in my life, the outcome may have been very different. I was rescued from a life of sin and heartache, and now, I can't imagine trying to live without Jesus Christ in control of my life.

The Latter Reign is celebrating the first day of its twenty-fourth year being published, this Sunday. Also, we have reached another milestone in writing the blog, latterreign7.com. As of this week, we have posted 280 blog posts, the first being posted on July 24, 2013. As the years have passed by and the stack of words have grown, I am still amazed at how God always seems to do it again every week. Even when I have severe writer's block, or erase several drafts because I don't feel clearance to write it, he still directs my steps to write, once again. I know that there are more slick and professional publications that are produced, but this was something that the Lord gave me to do. March 15, 1995, I was so unsure of my abilities, but I knew that the Lord had spoken to my spirit to write, so I simply obeyed, without ever thinking that I'd still be writing, today.

I have made many, many mistakes, and if you have some of the earlier issues you would probably be surprised to find out that I was an English teacher because of all of the errors. Still, the Lord has been patient with me, and every week, he gives me something to write. I know it is he, who does it, because when I sense that it is time, the words flow without hesitation. As long as I stay out of the way, and let the Lord direct my steps, the message that is given, will be delivered. I am nothing without Jesus Christ, and I am thankful that he has allowed me, a nobody, to be somebody in his presence. How could I ever forget how great my God is? He has called me his friend, and he gave me a command to write it in a book. We have come a long way since the beginning of the Latter Reign; so I humbly ask that the Lord let me be a light, in my part of his great plan. Thank you for your support of the writing ministry. Worship with us, today. gm
